James Baker encouraged the committee members to break into sub-committees to research the top concerns and then to rotate the sub-committees, so that everyone gets to speak to each subject before presenting to the Assembly.

6. New Business

A. Discussion of Committee's Plan to Address the Assembly's Concerns, such as Definition of Public Places, Zoning Issues, etc.

Discussion started with Jeigh Stanton Gregor explaining that meetings will be civil and orderly but without adhering to Robert's Rules of Order. He then asked each member present to introduce themselves and briefly describe their reasons for wanting to participate in the committee. Reasons included: concerns about the safety and welfare of the children in the community; making sure the will of the people was taken into consideration during decision-making; keeping our community clean; zoning; permitting and taxation; social and medical concerns; and law enforcement.

It was decided that the committee would divide into three sub-committees: (a) zoning; (b) permitting and taxation; and (c) public safety. Each committee member requested assignment to one or more of these groups. The sub-committees were instructed to meet together and report back to the committee as a whole at the next meeting, set for Wednesday, May 27, 2015, in the Assembly chambers.
